Allen Dulles Will Speak At Academy

Allen Welsh Dulles, brother of the Secretary of State and director of the Central Intelligence Agency, Washington, D.C., will speak at the Lamont Gallery of Phillips Exeter Academy Sunday night at 7.

The public is invited to the lecture, to be held in honor of the meeting of the Society of the Cincinnati in the State of New Hampshire.

Dulles' topic will be, "The Challenge of the Public Service." He was named director of the CIA in 1953 by President Eisenhower. He served in the diplomatic service for 11 years, until he began a law practice in New York City in 1926.

During World War II, Dulles headed the Office of Strategic Services mission to Germany. In 1948, he was named by former President Truman as chairman of a group to survey U.S. intelligence systems.

PAPER DRIVE

Exeter Boy Scouts will conduct a paper drive Saturday, May 26, to help finance a three-day trip for boys in Troops 193 and 194 to Cape Cod.

Everett P. Holland, in charge of the drive, said scouts will call on as many homes as possible during the morning to tie up newspapers. He asked homeowners to put newspapers they want to donate in front of their houses.

Trucks will go through the town during the afternoon, to collect the papers. Holland said the trip will provide an opportunity for boys to visit historical sites.
